DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2-8, 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Eichmann 5,845,832.

Eichmann teaches a vehicle mounted cargo carrier comprising a mounting arm 32, a swing arm 38, 42, a base 46, article carriers 54, 55, 58, 59, pivotal connections comprising pivot pins, clevis, socket and stub shafts, 36, 40, 44, 52, a mounting lug 26, a first pin 41, and a second pin 68.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 3 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eichmann 5,845,832 in view of Clayton 5,439,151.

Eichmann teaches the claimed invention as noted above except that Eichmann does not specifically mention a watertight cargo compartment as an article to be carried by his carrier and does not teach an alternative arrangement for attaching his carrier to a vehicle comprising two mounting bars. Clayton teaches that it is old and well known in the art to attach a watertight cargo compartment 10 to the carrier portion of a vehicle mounted cargo carrier and also teaches that in some instances a second mounting bar is needed to attach the cargo carrier to certain vehicles (see figure 11). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to attach the watertight cargo compartment of Clayton to the article carrier of Eichmann since this is old and well known in the art and Eichmann specifically states in column 3 lines 52-55 that his carrier is adaptable to a wide variety of cargo to be carried. It further would have been obvious to modify the cargo carrier of Eichmann to include two mounting bars so that the carrier could be applied to a wider variety of vehicles.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed November 7, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants arguments fail to address the rejection as applied to applicants claims. Element 32 of Eichmann is identified in the rejection of the claims as the structure meeting the claimed limitation of the non-pivoting mounting arm, not pivoting arm 38 as argued by applicant.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
